Abstracts

Dtg pretreatment solution is a chemical formulation applied to textiles—typically cotton, polyester, or blends—prior to direct-to-garment (DTG) printing, serving to prepare fabric surfaces by improving ink adhesion, color vibrancy, and print durability while preventing ink bleeding, cracking, or fading after washing. This pretreatment process involves coating the garment with a solution that often contains polymers, bonding agents, and moisture-control additives, which create an optimized surface for pigment or water-based inks to bond securely to fabric fibers during the curing stage, thereby ensuring high-quality, long-lasting prints that meet commercial and consumer standards for softness and wash fastness.

The global Dtg Pretreatment Solution market size was estimated at USD 45.0 million in 2024 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 7.50% during the forecast period.
