Abstracts

Group Captive Insurance refers to a self-insurance arrangement in which a group of unrelated companies (or members) come together to create and own a single captive insurance company. This captive insurer provides coverage for the group's collective risks, such as property, liability, workers' compensation, or other types of insurance. By pooling resources, the member companies share both the costs and the risks associated with insuring their businesses, typically resulting in cost savings, enhanced control over claims management, and customized coverage options.

The global Group Captive Insurance market size was estimated at USD 3716.0 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 7.40% during the forecast period.

This report offers a comprehensive and in-depth analysis of the global Group Captive Insurance market, covering all critical facets from a broad macroeconomic overview to detailed micro-level insights. It examines market size, competitive landscape, emerging development trends, niche segments, key drivers and challenges, as well as conducts SWOT and value chain analyses.

The insights provided enable readers to understand the competitive dynamics within the industry and formulate effective strategies to enhance profitability and market positioning. Additionally, the report presents a clear framework for evaluating the current status and future outlook of business organizations operating in this sector.

A significant focus of this report lies in the competitive landscape of the global Group Captive Insurance market. It offers detailed profiles of major players, including their market shares, performance metrics, product portfolios, and operational status. This
