Abstracts

A horizontal peeler centrifuge is a specialized industrial separation device used primarily in chemical, pharmaceutical, and food processing industries to separate solid-liquid mixtures through centrifugal force. It consists of a horizontally mounted, perforated basket lined with a filtration medium; the mixture is fed into the rotating basket, where centrifugal action forces the liquid (filtrate) through the basket perforations while retaining the solid material (cake) inside. A key feature is the peeler knife, which automatically or manually scrapes the accumulated solids from the basket wall once the separation cycle is complete, allowing for continuous or batch processing. Designed for handling delicate, crystalline, or fibrous materials, this equipment is valued for its efficiency, gentle product handling, and adaptability to varying feed concentrations and operational requirements such as washing or drying the solids in-place.

The global Horizontal Peeler Centrifuge market size was estimated at USD 1200.0 million in 2024 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 4.50% during the forecast period.
