Abstracts

Import and export agents are companies specializing in international trade agency services. Acting as intermediaries, they handle a wide range of core cross-border trade processes, including customs declaration, logistics, document processing, foreign exchange settlement, and export tax rebates, on behalf of clients without import and export rights or unfamiliar with international trade processes (such as factories or small and medium-sized enterprises). Their core value lies in streamlining processes, mitigating risks, and reducing costs for clients through their expertise.With profound adjustments in the global economic landscape, the booming development of cross-border e-commerce, and the deepening of regional agreements such as RCEP, the import and export agency industry has broad prospects. Enterprises are improving service efficiency through digital transformation, optimizing logistics and compliance processes by leveraging technologies such as blockchain and AI, and expanding into emerging markets and green trade to meet diverse customer needs. Driven by policy support and technological innovation, the industry is moving towards a new stage of high-quality development characterized by specialization, intelligence, and sustainability.

The global Import and Export Agent market size was estimated at USD 750000.0 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 6.20% during the forecast period.

This report offers a comprehensive and in-depth analysis of the global Import and Export Agent market, covering all critical facets from a broad macroeconomic overview to detailed micro-level insights. It examines market size, competitive landscape, emerging development trends, niche segments, key drivers and challenges, as well as conducts SWOT and value chain analyses.
