Abstracts

International Casualty refers to a type of insurance that provides insurance coverage for injuries, disabilities or deaths caused by accidents during the insured's overseas or cross-border travel, work, study, etc. This type of insurance usually includes medical expenses, hospitalization, death compensation, disability compensation, etc., and is intended to provide the insured with financial protection in the event of an accident abroad and reduce the financial pressure caused by the accident.

The global International Casualty market size was estimated at USD 8502.0 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 4.90% during the forecast period.

This report offers a comprehensive and in-depth analysis of the global International Casualty market, covering all critical facets from a broad macroeconomic overview to detailed micro-level insights. It examines market size, competitive landscape, emerging development trends, niche segments, key drivers and challenges, as well as conducts SWOT and value chain analyses.

The insights provided enable readers to understand the competitive dynamics within the industry and formulate effective strategies to enhance profitability and market positioning. Additionally, the report presents a clear framework for evaluating the current status and future outlook of business organizations operating in this sector.

A significant focus of this report lies in the competitive landscape of the global International Casualty market. It offers detailed profiles of major players, including their market shares, performance metrics, product portfolios, and operational status. This enables stakeholders to identify leading competitors and gain a nuanced understanding
