The janitorial services market encompasses professional cleaning and maintenance solutions for commercial, industrial, and residential properties, including offices, schools, healthcare facilities, retail spaces, and manufacturing plants. These services range from routine tasks like mopping, dusting, and trash removal to specialized cleaning such as carpet shampooing, window washing, and disinfection. The industry is driven by increasing hygiene standards, regulatory compliance requirements, and the growing preference for outsourcing non-core business functions. Key players include both large multinational companies and small local providers, with competition based on service quality, pricing, and reliability. Emerging trends such as green cleaning products, automation (e.g., robotic cleaners), and demand for sanitization post-pandemic are reshaping the market.
