Abstracts

The 2025 U.S. tariff policies introduce profound uncertainty into the global economic landscape. This report critically examines the implications of recent tariff adjustments and international strategic countermeasures on Lisdexamfetamine API competitive dynamics, regional economic interdependencies, and supply chain reconfigurations. Lisdexamfetamine active pharmaceutical ingredient (API) refers to the active compound used in the production of lisdexamfetamine formulations such as capsules, tablets, and oral solutions. It is a prodrug synthesized from dextroamphetamine and the amino acid lysine, classified as a central nervous system stimulant. Once administered orally in finished dosage forms, it is metabolized into dextroamphetamine to exert its therapeutic effects, primarily in the treatment of attention deficit hyperactivity disorder and moderate to severe binge eating disorder. As a critical upstream component, the synthesis process, quality control, and reliable supply of the API have a direct impact on the efficacy, safety, and market availability of downstream pharmaceutical products. In 2024, the global production of lisdexamfetamine API reached 69.2 tons, with an average price of 3,150 USD per kilogram.

The global Lisdexamfetamine API market size was estimated at USD 218.0 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 7.10% during the forecast period.
