Abstracts

A pallet, sometimes inaccurately called a skid (a skid has no bottom deck boards), is a flat transport structure that supports goods in a stable fashion while being lifted by a forklift, pallet jack, front loader, work saver, or other jacking device, or a crane. A pallet is the structural foundation of a unit load which allows handling and storage efficiencies. Goods or shipping containers are often placed on a pallet secured with strapping, stretch wrap or shrink wrap and shipped. Since its invention in the twentieth century, its use has dramatically supplanted older forms of crating like the wooden box and the wooden barrel, as it works well with modern packaging like cardboard boxes and Intermodal containers commonly used for bulk shipping. Most pallets are wooden pallets. The food market includes both fresh and processed foods. According to our research, the global food and beverage market has a sales revenue of approximately US$10 trillion. China is the world's number one food and beverage market and the world's number one food and beverage producer. In the market drivers section, the total consumer spending forecast shows that consumption at home is growing faster than consumption away from home. However, food service continues to become increasingly important due to changing lifestyles. In addition, the rise of private label brands is putting pressure on the margins of brand manufacturers as retailers compete for a higher share of product sales.

The global Lumber Pallet market size was estimated at USD 4043.0 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 5.90% during the forecast period.
