Abstracts

Mass selling snack shops, also known as snack discount stores, represent a new retail model distinct from traditional snack shops. They focus on offering a wide variety of snacks from multiple brands, attracting large customer volumes through low prices and bulk sales. The term "mass selling" originates from Japanese, emphasizing the strategy of large-scale procurement and sales to achieve cost-effective pricing. These stores typically purchase goods directly from brand owners or distributors, bypassing intermediaries, allowing them to offer a diverse range of affordable snacks, catering to the demand for variety and high cost-performance in lower-tier markets.

The global Mass Selling Snack Shops market size was estimated at USD 12450.0 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 27.30% during the forecast period.

This report offers a comprehensive and in-depth analysis of the global Mass Selling Snack Shops market, covering all critical facets from a broad macroeconomic overview to detailed micro-level insights. It examines market size, competitive landscape, emerging development trends, niche segments, key drivers and challenges, as well as conducts SWOT and value chain analyses.

The insights provided enable readers to understand the competitive dynamics within the industry and formulate effective strategies to enhance profitability and market positioning. Additionally, the report presents a clear framework for evaluating the current status and future outlook of business organizations operating in this sector.

A significant focus of this report lies in the competitive landscape of the global Mass Selling Snack Shops market. It offers detailed profiles of major players, including their
