Abstracts

Medical coding outsourcing service refers to the practice where healthcare providers, such as hospitals, clinics, or medical practices, entrust the task of medical coding to external specialized companies or agencies. Medical coding involves translating the details of medical diagnoses, procedures, and services into standardized alphanumeric codes for billing, insurance claims processing, and maintaining accurate medical records. By outsourcing this function, healthcare organizations can leverage the expertise of these external entities, which often have trained coders well-versed in the complex coding systems like ICD (International Classification of Diseases), CPT (Current Procedural Terminology), and HCPCS (Healthcare Common Procedure Coding System). This allows the healthcare providers to focus more on patient care while ensuring proper reimbursement and organized record-keeping through the efficient handling of medical coding by the outsourced service.

The global Medical Coding Outsourcing Service market size was estimated at USD 14410.0 million in 2024 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 6.80% during the forecast period.
