Open floor deck is a type of floor deck commonly used in building structures. It is usually made of metal (such as steel) or concrete materials and has strong load-bearing capacity and good compressive resistance. A key feature of the open floor deck design is that there are certain openings or holes on the board surface. These openings make it have better water permeability and ventilation, while also reducing the weight of the board and reducing material costs.

The global Open Floor Decking market size was estimated at USD 4445.0 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 4.60% during the forecast period.
