Abstracts

Derived from the leaves of the Euphorbia cerifera (candelilla) shrub native to northern Mexico and the southwestern United States, organic candelilla wax is a plant-based, vegan alternative to beeswax and other animal-derived or synthetic waxes. It is obtained through a solvent-free, physical process that involves boiling the plant material in water and acid, then skimming and purifying the resulting wax, ensuring it meets certified organic standards by avoiding pesticides, synthetic fertilizers, and genetically modified organisms. Valued for its hard, brittle consistency, high melting point (around 68-73°C), excellent emulsifying properties, and glossy finish, it is widely used as a key ingredient in cosmetics (such as lip balms, lotions, and mascaras), pharmaceuticals (e.g., tablet coatings and ointments), food applications (as a glazing agent), and natural candles, appealing particularly to consumers seeking sustainable, cruelty-free, and natural product formulations.

The global Organic Candelilla Wax market size was estimated at USD 36.5 million in 2024 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 7.25% during the forecast period.
