Abstracts

Paper cloth is wallpaper whose raw material is paper. In Europe and the United States, there are many paper cloth wallpapers made from pulp, while in Japan, vinyl cloth wallpapers are more common. Paper cloth is classified into Western-style cloth, Japanese-style cloth, and non-wood, paper cloth. In addition to these, there is also synthetic paper with a film-processed surface.Paper cloth can be used as a paper material to enhance the packaging of Japanese and Western confectionery shops and sake breweries because it can produce a unique depth of color and a texture like real cloth or leather, which is difficult to express through printing. Foil stamping can be used to create a sense of luxury.Paper cloth has been attracting attention in recent years because of its environmental friendliness. Its raw materials are natural and gentle to the indoor environment, and it can be used for finishing office and office walls. Increasingly, it is also being used for bedroom walls.

The global Paper Cloth market size was estimated at USD 254.0 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 3.30% during the forecast period.

This report offers a comprehensive and in-depth analysis of the global Paper Cloth market, covering all critical facets from a broad macroeconomic overview to detailed micro-level insights. It examines market size, competitive landscape, emerging development trends, niche segments, key drivers and challenges, as well as conducts SWOT and value chain analyses.

The insights provided enable readers to understand the competitive dynamics within the industry and formulate effective strategies to enhance profitability and market positioning. Additionally, the report presents a clear framework for evaluating the current
