Abstracts

Pet dog lifetime insurance is a specialized form of pet insurance designed to provide continuous coverage for a dog's medical expenses throughout its entire life, as long as the policy remains active and premiums are paid. Unlike time-limited or condition-capped policies, lifetime insurance typically covers chronic, recurring, or long-term conditions year after year, subject to annual limits that reset upon renewal. This type of policy offers pet owners financial protection against unexpected veterinary costs, including surgeries, medications, diagnostic tests, and treatments for ongoing issues such as allergies, arthritis, or diabetes, ensuring that the dog receives necessary care without significant out-of-pocket expenses for the owner.

The global Pet Dog Lifetime Insurance market size was estimated at USD 1020.5 million in 2024 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 8.45% during the forecast period.
