Abstracts

Portable carpet extractors are specialized cleaning devices designed for the deep cleaning and extraction of water, cleaning solutions, and embedded dirt from carpets and upholstery, combining the functions of spraying cleaning fluid and vacuuming residue in a single, mobile unit that is typically lightweight, compact, and self-contained with onboard solution and recovery tanks. These machines are utilized across both residential and commercial settings, offering an efficient alternative to larger, truck-mounted or industrial systems by providing greater flexibility, ease of transport, and suitability for smaller spaces or spot cleaning tasks without sacrificing the thorough cleaning power associated with hot water extraction methods.
