Report Overview

The power toothbrush market encompasses electric and sonic toothbrushes designed to enhance oral hygiene through automated brushing mechanisms, offering features like oscillating, rotating, or sonic vibrations to improve plaque removal and gum health compared to manual brushing. These devices typically include rechargeable batteries, multiple brushing modes, pressure sensors, and smart connectivity for real-time feedback via companion apps, catering to consumers seeking advanced dental care solutions. The market is segmented by product type (oscillating-rotating, sonic, and ultrasonic), distribution channel (online, offline), and price range (premium, mid-range, budget), driven by increasing awareness of oral health, technological advancements, and rising disposable incomes in emerging economies. Key players compete on innovation, battery life, brush-head compatibility, and integration with digital health platforms, while sustainability concerns push eco-friendly designs and recyclable materials. Growth is further fueled by dental professional recommendations and partnerships with insurance providers, though high costs and consumer preference for traditional brushes in price-sensitive regions remain challenges.

The global Power Toothbrush market size was estimated at USD 1201.82 million in 2024 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 6.25% during the forecast period.
