Abstracts

Rosuvastatin calcium tablets are a widely prescribed oral medication classified as a statin, specifically a selective and competitive inhibitor of HMG-CoA reductase, the rate-limiting enzyme in the cholesterol biosynthesis pathway in the liver. By reducing endogenous cholesterol production, these tablets effectively lower low-density lipoprotein (LDL) cholesterol and triglycerides while modestly elevating high-density lipoprotein (HDL) cholesterol, making them a cornerstone in the management of dyslipidemia and the reduction of cardiovascular risk in patients with hypercholesterolemia, atherosclerosis, or a history of cardiovascular events. Marketed under various brand names, including the well-known Crestor, as well as numerous generic versions, rosuvastatin calcium tablets are available in multiple strengths to allow for individualized dosing based on patient lipid profiles, comorbidities, and therapeutic response, with their efficacy and safety profile supported by extensive clinical trials and real-world evidence.

The global Rosuvastatin Calcium Tablets market size was estimated at USD 12450.0 million in 2024 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 3.85% during the forecast period.
