Abstracts

Saffron-Based cosmetics are a type of skin care and beauty products that have emerged in recent years. They use saffron as the main ingredient or add saffron extracts, and have multiple functions and characteristics. Saffron contains a variety of active ingredients and has excellent antioxidant effects. It can effectively neutralize free radicals, repair damaged cells, and slow down the aging of the skin. At the same time, its own fragrance can also play a soothing role in the skin care process, providing nourishment to the skin while making the user feel physically and mentally happy. Saffron, a spice known for its bright colors and high prices, is being used in serums, moisturizers, masks, cleansers, and even hair care products. Saffron can improve skin texture and elasticity, especially for the vast number of people who pursue younger skin.

The global Saffron-Based Cosmetics market size was estimated at USD 782.0 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 6.70% during the forecast period.

This report offers a comprehensive and in-depth analysis of the global Saffron-Based Cosmetics market, covering all critical facets from a broad macroeconomic overview to detailed micro-level insights. It examines market size, competitive landscape, emerging development trends, niche segments, key drivers and challenges, as well as conducts SWOT and value chain analyses.
