Abstracts

Saloon glass encapsulation refers to the specialized process of installing, sealing, and bonding glass panels?such as windshields, side windows, and rear windows?onto the body of a saloon (sedan) vehicle using advanced adhesives, sealants, and precision techniques to ensure structural integrity, weather resistance, noise reduction, and safety compliance. This encapsulation often integrates additional components like mouldings, sensors, or antennae within the glass assembly, creating a seamless, durable, and aesthetically cohesive interface between the glass and the vehicle frame. The process is critical not only for occupant protection and vehicle aerodynamics but also for supporting modern automotive features such as advanced driver-assistance systems (ADAS) that rely on calibrated glass-mounted sensors.

The global Saloon Glass Encapsulation market size was estimated at USD 2400.0 million in 2024 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 7.50% during the forecast period.
