Abstracts

The 2025 U.S. tariff policies introduce profound uncertainty into the global economic landscape. This report critically examines the implications of recent tariff adjustments and international strategic countermeasures on Silicone Teeth Braces competitive dynamics, regional economic interdependencies, and supply chain reconfigurations. Silicone Teeth Braces are a flexible orthodontic device made of medical-grade silicone material, mainly used for early childhood occlusal intervention (such as correction of overbite and buck teeth) and mild tooth alignment adjustment in adults. They are characterized by high biocompatibility, comfortable wearing, detachable and washable, and guide tooth movement or jaw development through elastic pressure. Compared with traditional metal brackets, silicone braces are more beautiful and non-irritating, and are suitable for myofunctional training of children aged 3-12 (such as MRC braces) and auxiliary treatment of invisible correction in adults.
