Abstracts

Globally, the volume of Sports Business Consulting services reached approximately 58,000 projects in 2024, with an average project fee of $125,000. This is a professional consulting service for sports organizations, event operators, and sports-related enterprises, providing comprehensive solutions including strategic planning, business development, event operations, brand marketing, and digital transformation. The service covers core areas such as market research, business model design, sponsorship system construction, media rights optimization, and fan economy development, utilizing data analysis, industry insights, and best practice cases to help clients enhance commercial value and competitiveness in the sports industry. The sports business consulting market is currently in a rapid development phase, primarily driven by increasing commercialization of the global sports industry, widespread adoption of digital technologies, and the emergence of new sports formats. The competitive landscape is dominated by internationally renowned consulting firms and specialized sports consulting agencies, with service differentiation reflected in industry expertise, global resource networks, and digital solution capabilities. Future development trends will focus on emerging areas such as ESG strategy consulting, sports metaverse applications, esports commercialization, and data asset valuation. Meanwhile, providing value-added services including cross-border integration innovation, personalized fan experience design, and sports technology investment evaluation will become key industry development priorities.

The global Sports Business Consulting market size was estimated at USD 7250.0 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 14.30% during the forecast period.
