Report Overview

Sports support tape is a specialized adhesive tape designed to provide support and stability to muscles and joints during physical activity. It is commonly used by athletes to prevent injuries, reduce pain, and enhance performance. The tape is made of elastic cotton with an acrylic adhesive that allows it to stretch and conform to the body's contours. Sports support tape is typically applied directly to the skin in specific patterns to support targeted areas such as the knees, ankles, shoulders, and wrists.
