Report Overview

Turf seed is a type of grass seed that is used to grow a new lawn. There are two ways to grow a new lawn: seeding and turfing. Seeding involves sowing fresh grass seed on prepared soil, while turfing involves laying out pre-grown grass plants matted together as a roll on the soil¹. Seeds are embryonic plants enclosed in a protective outer covering called the seed coat. They contain all the necessary materials to develop into a complex plant, in our case, grass.
