Tamper evident bags are specialized packaging products designed to provide visible evidence of tampering or unauthorized access. These bags are equipped with security features such as unique seals, indicators, or closures that show signs of interference when tampered with. Tamper evident bags are commonly used in industries where the protection of contents during storage or transportation is critical, such as in the pharmaceutical, banking, retail, and logistics sectors. The primary function of tamper evident bags is to ensure the integrity and security of the items enclosed within them, thereby deterring theft, tampering, or contamination.
