Abstracts

The 2025 U.S. tariff policies introduce profound uncertainty into the global economic landscape. This report critically examines the implications of recent tariff adjustments and international strategic countermeasures on Tigecycline API competitive dynamics, regional economic interdependencies, and supply chain reconfigurations. In 2024, global sales of tigecycline API reached 31 tons, with an average selling price of US$16,853 per kilogram. Tigecycline (CAS?220620-09-7), is a tetracycline antibiotic medication for a number of bacterial infections. Tigecycline is an important pharmaceutical raw material widely used in drug production. It can be used to produce antibiotics, antivirals, and antiparasitic drugs, providing an effective treatment option for various infectious diseases. Tigecycline is a broad-spectrum antibiotic with antibacterial properties. It belongs to the tetracycline class of antibiotics and can interfere with bacterial protein synthesis, thereby inhibiting bacterial growth and reproduction. Due to its unique pharmacological properties, tigecycline is widely used in the pharmaceutical industry to produce a variety of drugs. Tigecycline API is primarily produced through semi-synthetic fermentation and chemical coupling (fermentation to produce minocycline, followed by 3-4 steps to synthesize tigecycline). Leading companies have achieved GMP-grade, large-scale production with purity >99% and impurity levels
