Report Overview

Toothpastes for sensitive teeth are specialized oral care products designed to alleviate the discomfort and pain associated with sensitive teeth. These toothpastes contain active ingredients such as potassium nitrate, strontium chloride, or arginine, which help to block the transmission of pain signals from the tooth's nerve endings to the brain. They also work to strengthen the tooth's enamel and reduce the permeability of dentin tubules, thereby decreasing the sensitivity caused by temperature changes, pressure, or acidic foods and beverages.
