Abstracts

Tourism health care services refer to the goal of meeting people's dual needs for leisure tourism and physical and mental health, and comprehensively using natural resources, cultural resources, medical rehabilitation, health care, psychological counseling, nutrition and diet, sports therapy and other means to integrate the concept of "tourism + health" to provide systematic, personalized, and multi-level health care experience and service system. This type of service includes both short-term health tourism activities, such as hot spring therapy, forest health care, health vacation, cultural healing travel, etc., and also covers long-term rehabilitation, chronic disease conditioning, health care and elderly care services, emphasizing the integrated integration of "health care in travel, medical care in health care, and fun in medical care".
