Abstracts

An ultrasonic aligner cleaner is a specialized cleaning device utilized for orthodontic aligners. It harnesses ultrasonic waves, which create millions of microscopic bubbles in the cleaning liquid within its chamber through the process of cavitation. These bubbles implode near the surface of the aligners with significant force, effectively dislodging and removing debris, plaque, food particles, and bacteria that accumulate on the aligners during use, providing a convenient and efficient way to maintain their cleanliness and hygiene for better orthodontic treatment outcomes.
