Abstracts

The 2025 U.S. tariff policies introduce profound uncertainty into the global economic landscape. This report critically examines the implications of recent tariff adjustments and international strategic countermeasures on Unhulled Sesame Paste competitive dynamics, regional economic interdependencies, and supply chain reconfigurations. Unhulled Sesame Paste is a thick, oily paste made from whole sesame seeds that retain their outer hull during processing. Unlike hulled sesame paste, where the outer skin is removed, unhulled sesame paste contains the entire sesame seed, including its fiber-rich husk. This paste is typically darker in color, slightly more bitter in taste, and higher in fiber, calcium, and other minerals due to the inclusion of the hull. It is used in a variety of culinary applications, especially in Middle Eastern, Asian, and health-conscious food products.

The global Unhulled Sesame Paste market size was estimated at USD 834.0 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 5.20% during the forecast period.
