Abstracts

Venture capital services encompass a specialized form of private equity financing provided by firms or funds to early-stage, high-growth-potential startups and emerging companies that are typically characterized by innovative business models, disruptive technologies, or scalable market opportunities. These services go beyond mere capital infusion to include strategic guidance, mentorship, industry networking, operational support, and governance oversight, with the objective of accelerating company growth and achieving a profitable exit—often through an acquisition or initial public offering (IPO)—within a defined investment horizon, usually 5–10 years. The venture capital model is inherently high-risk, as it involves investing in unproven businesses with significant potential for failure, but it targets outsized returns by backing companies that can achieve market leadership or transformative impact in their sectors.
