Abstracts

Washable water-based paint is a type of interior paint formulated with water as the primary solvent, characterized by its ability to be easily cleaned from surfaces?and often from skin and fabrics?using soap and water, even after drying. It is typically low in volatile organic compounds (VOCs), making it environmentally friendly and safer for indoor use, with minimal odor and quick drying times. This product is designed for high-traffic or family-oriented spaces where frequent cleaning is anticipated, such as children?s rooms, kitchens, hallways, and commercial settings like schools or healthcare facilities. Its washability relies on advanced resin technologies that create a durable yet permeable film, allowing stains and marks to be removed without damaging the painted surface or compromising its integrity over multiple cleanings.

The global Washable Water Based Paint market size was estimated at USD 12500.0 million in 2024 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 4.80% during the forecast period.
