Whistleblowing software is a type of issue management solution that provides employees with anonymous options to report issues related to fraud, harassment, theft, embezzlement, corruption, and so on, giving organizations the ability to uncover these workplace problems. Whistleblowing software facilitates employee reporting through web access, mobile apps, chat, phone hotlines, SMS, and email. It also provides tools for organizations to receive reports and investigate the claims, along with analytics tools to determine where misconduct is prevalent. Whistleblowing software might be provided in tandem with HR case management software, GRC platforms, or ethics and compliance learning software, to name a few.
