Abstracts

Live-in nanny service is a type of domestic service where the nanny lives in the employer's home as a member of the family, providing round-the-clock child care and household support. A live-in nanny is a nanny who lives in their employer's home and provides child care. Families who opt to hire a live-in nanny instead of a live-out nanny (who commutes to the family's home) do so for a variety of reasons. Live-in nannies can be more available to parents who work non-traditional hours or travel a lot. As consumers' demands for service quality continue to rise, live-in nannies are required to possess more specialized skills. Beyond traditional household chores and childcare, nannies are now required to master childcare, nutritional meal planning, and health care skills. Some high-end families also require nannies with early childhood education and foreign language skills. The diversification of family structures and the increasing personalization of consumer demands are driving the personalized development of live-in nanny services. Different families have varying requirements for nannies' skills, personalities, and cultural backgrounds. Some families even customize service plans based on specific needs, such as dietary requirements or specialized educational methods.

The global Live-in Nanny Services market size was estimated at USD 2163.0 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 5.90% during the forecast period.

This report offers a comprehensive and in-depth analysis of the global Live-in Nanny Services market, covering all critical facets from a broad macroeconomic overview to detailed micro-level insights. It examines market size, competitive landscape, emerging development trends, niche segments, key drivers and challenges, as well as conducts SWOT and value chain analyses.
