Abstracts

Report Overview

The OTC dandruff shampoo market consists of medicated hair care products designed to treat flaking and itching caused by scalp conditions such as seborrheic dermatitis, psoriasis, or fungal infections. These shampoos typically contain active ingredients like pyrithione zinc, selenium sulfide, ketoconazole, coal tar, or salicylic acid, which help reduce fungal growth, inflammation, and excessive skin cell turnover. Positioned as a convenient, non-prescription solution, they cater to consumers seeking immediate relief from mild to moderate dandruff without requiring a doctor's visit. The market is driven by increasing awareness of scalp health, rising disposable income, and the growing prevalence of dandruff-related issues due to pollution, stress, and harsh hair care products. Major brands compete on efficacy, natural formulations, and added benefits such as moisturizing or anti-hair fall properties, while private-label and dermatologist-recommended products continue to gain traction.

This report provides a deep insight into the global OTC Dandruff Shampoo market covering all its essential aspects. This ranges from a macro overview of the market to micro details of the market size, competitive landscape, development trend, niche market, key market drivers and challenges, SWOT analysis, value chain analysis, etc.
