Abstracts

Registrar and Transfer Agent (RTA) service refers to a third-party entity that is responsible for maintaining records of investors and their transactions in a company's securities. The RTA service also facilitates the transfer of securities from one investor to another, as well as the issuance and redemption of securities. The RTA service plays a crucial role in ensuring the accuracy and integrity of the company's shareholder records, as well as in providing support for various corporate actions such as dividend payments, stock splits, and mergers and acquisitions. In addition to maintaining shareholder records, the RTA service may also provide additional services such as investor communication, proxy voting, and dividend distribution. Overall, the RTA service helps to streamline and manage the administrative tasks associated with shareholder management and securities transactions, thereby providing a valuable service to both companies and their investors.

The global Registrar And Transfer Agent Rta Service market size was estimated at USD 8250.42 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 6.85% during the forecast period.
