Abstracts

Bladder Cancer is cancer arising in the urinary bladder, generally from urothelial cells. It is the fourth most common cancer in males and the ninth most common in females.

While Bladder Cancer is associated with significant morbidity and mortality, prognosis tends to be good with 80-100% survival at 5 years. However, Bladder Cancer can also have high recurrence rates; therefore patients that have had bladder cancer require life-long monitoring.

This report provides the current incident population for Bladder Cancer across 18 Major Markets (USA, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, UK, Hungary, Turkey, Russia, Japan, India, Australia, Canada, Argentina, Brazil, Mexico, South Africa and Saudi Arabia) split by gender and 5-year age cohort. Along with the current incidence, the report also contains a disease overview of the risk factors, disease diagnosis and prognosis along with specific variations by geography and ethnicity.

Providing a value-added level of insight from the analysis team at Black Swan, several of the main symptoms and co-morbidities of Bladder Cancer have been quantified and presented alongside the overall incidence figures. These sub-populations within the main disease are also included at a country level across the 10-year forecast snapshot.

Main symptoms and co-morbidities for Bladder Cancer include:

Smoking

Occupation

Bladder infections

Bladder stones

Family history of bladder cancer

This report is built using data and information sourced from the proprietary Epiomic patient segmentation database. To generate accurate patient population estimates, the Epiomic database utilises a combination of several world class sources that deliver the most up to date information from patient registries, clinical trials and epidemiology studies. All of the sources used to generate the data and analysis have been identified in the report.

Reason to buy

Able to quantify patient populations in global Bladder Cancer's market to target the development of future products, pricing strategies and launch plans.

Gain further insight into the incidence of the subdivided types of Bladder Cancer and identify patient segments with high potential.

Delivery of more accurate information for clinical trials in study sizing and realistic patient recruitment for various countries.

Provide a level of understanding on the impact from specific co-morbid conditions on Bladder Cancer incident population.

Identify sub-populations within Bladder Cancer which require treatment.

Gain an understanding of the specific markets that have the largest number of Bladder Cancer patients.

Contents

- Introduction
- Cause of the Disease
- Risk Factors & Prevention
- Diagnosis of the Disease
- Variation by Geography/Ethnicity
- Disease Prognosis & Clinical Course
- Key Co-morbid Conditions associated with the Disease
- Methodology for Quantification of Patient Numbers
- Top-Line Bladder Cancer Incidence
- Stages and Histopathology of Bladder Cancer
 - Jewett Strong Marshall Staging of Bladder Cancer
 - Anatomical Location of Bladder Cancer
 - Major Histopathology in Bladder Cancer
 - Smoking Status in Bladder Cancer
