Abstracts

Amino acid industry hot topics in 2013:

The EU doesn't pass the proposal of providing duty-free and quota-free for lysine imports. This decision plays a part in reducing the market supply pressure.

Thanks to the change in the layout of methionine, Asia will be the next main producing area. As the increasing demand of methionine in Asia, many manufacturers will expand into Asia, and China will be the first choice.

Fermentation amino acid product price fell to its historic lows because of the high cost of corn in 2013. But it will not continue to decline.
