Now the production of  $\beta$ -carotene is not prosperous in China, but the market prospect is bright.

This report presents a data-based, clear and in-depth research on  $\beta$ -carotene industry, from the aspects of history, technology, production (including different specifications), market, import & export, consumption, etc.

All the manufacturers in China are sourced in this report. The import and export analysis originates from comprehensive phone calls. In the consumption section, the consumption pattern is discussed in detail.

Besides, 2 other important pigments with somewhat similar use as  $\beta$ -carotene, including Carotenoid and Lycopene, are both discussed and researched in this report.
