Key findings (Word) + Trade analysis (Excel)

Epoxiconazole is a kind of triazole fungicide developed by German BASF. Epoxiconazole capacity is much larger than its output in China, as demand for it is very small. Its price is very high, which is one of the reasons for the small demand.

All epoxiconazole manufacturers in China produce by orders, so the production is not continuous. As most triazole fungicides share the same production line, the manufacturers may produce other triazole fungicides when they haven't received epoxiconazole orders.

From this report, you can get such information about epoxiconazole as:

- Situation about major epoxiconazole manufacturers in china;
- Epoxiconazole price change in recent years and influencing factors;
- Export situation of epoxiconazole technical in china.
