Abstracts

In the past few years, China's fungicide industry enjoyed a relatively fast development: the output of fungicides kept increasing; the market size kept expanding; the major fungicide enterprises had good performance in the past two years; etc. thanks to the increasing demand in the world. This situation will continue in the following years. In the next few years, China's fungicide industry will still have a great growth potential.

In this report, the supply & demand situation had been deeply introduced, and the influencing factors had also been analyzed in the following aspects:

Supply & demand situation

Production situation

Consumption situation

Product structure

Dynamics of major enterprises

Industry trend analysis
