Abstracts

The year 2013 was a good year for China herbicide industry. The good prospect continued from 2012: prices of herbicides in 2013 were relatively higher than those in 2012; profits of the industry also rose significantly, thanks for the growing demand and environmental scrutiny in pesticide industry in China. In 2014, the herbicide market will keep hot, and prices of herbicides will still stay high, but the prices won't increase as much as that in 2013 due to the overcapacity in China.

In this report, major herbicides's price in 2013 had been detailed, and the whole price changes in China's herbicide industry in 2013 had been presented from the following aspects:

Overview of China's herbicide industry in 2013

Prices of major herbicides and analysis
