Abstracts

Herbicide market still receives much attention and pesticide enterprises also make a great effort to develop herbicide products. According to the ICAMA, in the first half of 2014, altogether 94 new registration certifications of herbicide technical approved in China, approximately increasing by 19% compared with that in the same period of 2013. In particular, there were nine herbicide technical in total registered in China for the first time. Worthily, technical of glufosinate-ammonium, florasulam, flumetsulam, s-metolachlor and propyzamide rank the top five places by registration certification in H1 2014.

What's more, some insiders believe that market demand for herbicide will continue to increase in the future. Part of the optimistic products includes glyphosate, s-metolachlor, mesotrione, paraquat and dicamba. Thereinto, glyphosate and dicamba future growth in market demand mainly benefits from the promotion of GM crops. Besides, new formulation of paraquat will gain greater attention in the near future, although China Government has banned the production of paraquat AS just from July 1, 2014.
