Key findings (Word) + Trade analysis (Excel)

Oxyfluorfen is an effective and broad-spectrum herbicide, which can be widely used in the fields of rice, cotton, peanut, vegetables and orchard to control monocotyledonous plants and broadleaf weeds.

China has 7 active oxyfluorfen technical manufacturers in Jun. 2009, and approximate capacity of 2,650 tonnes. However, with limited demand, China's output was small in 2008, about 1,360 tonnes.

This report provides basic understanding to Chinese oxyfluorfen industry, in terms of production, producers, export and price.

Besides, you can find answers to questions as:

- Who are the active producers and how is the production situation in China?
- How the price has changed in recent years?
- How about the export situation in the first ten months of 2008?
