Abstracts

In early Aug., the safety assessment materials for arabinoxylan and N-acetylglucosamine, proposed as novel food ingredients, were reviewed and approved.

BLB's revenue declined in H1 2024, yet net profit surged significantly year-on-year. Kingdomway has recently made an advancement of convertible corporate bonds. In Oct. 2023, the proposal and pre-proposal for convertible corporate bonds to unspecified investors were published. Subsequently, in Dec. 2023, the bond prospectus (for filing) was released. The revised bond prospectus was published on 9 Aug., 2024.

Shandong Jiake finished the construction of two workshops that produce starch, dextrin, and glucose, according to the inspection report publicised in mid-Aug.

Bailong Chuangyuan intends to technically revamp the dietary fibre production line and augment the manufacturing capacity for resistant dextrin and polydextrose.

Jinhe Starch intends to expand and retrofit its facilities to enhance starch and glucose syrup production capabilities, and upon completion, it will triple the current glucose syrup capacity.

The listed company Shenzhen Lions King has expedited the industrialisation process for HMOs, with an anticipated market launch scheduled for early 2025.

Huakang Pharma intends to establish new production lines: one for 10,000 t/a of refined sugar alcohols, another for 12,000 t/a of powdered and granular sugar alcohols, and a third for 5,000 t/a of compound sweeteners.

On the same day, four companies announced a 50% increase in the price of sucralose. In the first seven months of 2024, China's exports of liquid starch-based sugar surged by 38.7% YoY, whereas the average export price decreased by 8.1% over the same period.
