Executive Summary

The major benefits of chartered air services include convenience, security, privacy, efficiency, flexibility, time-saving, customization, comfort, and choice. The chartered air services market can be segmented on the basis of type (Private Charter Services and Business Charter Services); and application (Charter Passenger, Charter Freight, and Other).

The global chartered air services market has increased significantly during the years 2017-2019 and projections are made that the market would rise in the next four years i.e. 2020-2024 tremendously. The chartered air services market is expected to increase due to rapid urbanization, rise in travel by millennial population, growth of tourism sector, growing number of high net worth individuals (HNWI), escalating demand for cargo charters, etc. Yet the market faces some challenges such as economic slowdown, increasing terrorist attacks, geopolitical conflict or security events, stringent regulations, etc.
