Executive Summary

Hair is probably one of the first important things people notice about others when meeting them for the first time. Beautiful, shiny and manageable hair always leaves a good impression. Therefore, hair care plays an important role in having healthy hair and for maintaining clean and attractive appearance. Hair care refers to the term involving all the things people do to keep their hair clean, healthy-looking and attractive. The care of human hair differs from person to person depending on their gender, culture and physical characteristics of one's hair. Hair care also involves cleaning of dirt particles and dead cells and prevent matting.

The main purpose of hair care is to have better hair growth, nourish the hair, problem-free scalp, reduce hair damage and avoid dandruff. There are some effective tips for healthy hair, which are: regular trimming of hair, use appropriate shampoo, eat healthy, reduce stress and nourish scalp.

Hair care has a long history with the continuous adoption of effective hair care products for clean and healthy looking hair and a shift from artificial chemical based hair care products to natural hair care products. The hair care market can be segmented on the basis of type, product and distribution channel.

The global hair care market has increased at a significant CAGR during the years 2013-2017 and projections are made that the market would rise in the next four years i.e. 2018-2022 tremendously. The hair care market is expected to increase due to rising purchasing power, surging urban population, aging population, growing millennial population and retail spending, increasing annual expenditure on hair care products, etc. Yet the market faces some challenges such as threat from counterfeit hair care products, involvement of hazardous chemicals, lack of awareness, etc.
