Executive Summary

Online gambling is the betting/staking of something of value, generally money on the outcome of a game using the internet. With the advent of high-speed internet, online gambling is gaining popularity among the population. The online gambling market is comprised of a number of different types of games, with their respective business model and technology. It consists of online casino, sports betting, online poker, online bingo, lotteries and other skill games.

The global market for online gambling has increased at a significant CAGR over the years 2010 to 2016 and projections are made that the market would maintain one-digit growth rates over the next five years i.e. 2017 to 2021. The global online gambling market is supported by various growth drivers such as growth of mobile gambling, availability of high-speed internet services, rising ownership of gadgets such as mobile, laptops, tablets, growing number of online women gamblers, industry consolidation and alternative option to cash. In spite of high growth, the market is still facing some challenges which are obstructing the growth of the market. Some of the major challenges faced by the industry are: lack of suitable software handling, cyber security issues and stringent government regulations.
