The wastewater is recycled through sewage treatment plants in which a combination of processes (e.g., physical, chemical and biological) are used to treat wastewater, which is then use for various purposes.

The main purpose of sewage treatment is to protect environment and individuals' health; to prevent marine life; to reduce water pollution; to improve wastewater quality; and to reuse the treated effluents in agriculture and industrial sector. The process of sewage treatment mainly involves three stages, which are Primary Treatment, Secondary Treatment, and Tertiary Treatment.

The sewage treatment facilities market can be segmented on the basis of product (Moving Bed Biofilm Reactors (MBBR), Ozone-Based Advanced Oxidation, and Adsorption and Powdered Activated Carbon (PAC); and application (Residential, Industrial, and Commercial).

The global sewage treatment facilities market has increased at a significant CAGR during the years 2015-2019 and projections are made that the market would rise in the next four years i.e. 2020-2024 tremendously. The sewage treatment facilities market is expected to increase due to rapid urbanization, growing industrial activities, increasing prevalence of water-borne diseases, rising sewage treatment facilities for power generation sector, stringent government regulations for wastewater treatment, etc. Yet the market faces some challenges such as high cost involved, staffing shortages, etc.
