Abstracts

The North America thermally conductive plastic market is expected to reach USD 559.49 million by 2025 from USD 175.63 million in 2017, at a CAGR of 15.6% in the forecast period 2018 to 2025.

The major factors driving the market are increased need for heat dissipation in industries such as in LED markets, automobile, cooling & heating systems, consumer electronic housings. The thermally conductive plastic market in the North America region is leading in U.S.

The key market players for North America thermally conductive plastic Market are listed below:

Celanese Corporation

Koninklijke DSM N.V.

Covestro AG

Polyone

The market is further segmented into:

Resin type

Industry

Geography

The North America thermally conductive plastic market is segmented on the basis of resin type, industry and geography. The report provides data for 2016 to 2025, 2017 being the current year while 2018 to 2025 is the forecast period for the report.

The North America thermally conductive plastics market is segmented based on resin type into five notable segments; polyamide, polycarbonate, polyphelene sulphide, polybutylene terephalate, polyetherimide and others. The thermally conductive plastics market is dominated by Polyamide with 45.0% market share in 2018, growing at a CAGR of 15.5% in the forecast period.

The North America thermally conductive plastics market is segmented based on industry into six notable segments; Electrical & Electronics, Automotive, Industrial, Healthcare, Aerospace and Others. In 2018, the Electrical & Electronics conductive plastics segment is expected to dominate the market with 41.4% market share.

Based on geography, the North America thermally conductive plastic Materials market is segmented into geographical regions, such as

U.S.

Canada

Mexico

Covered in this report

The report covers the present scenario and the growth prospects of the North America thermally conductive plastic market for 2018-2025. To calculate the market size, the report considers the revenue generated from the sales of the web conferencing and unified communication and collaboration (UC&C) and video conferencing, secondary resources and doing in-depth company share analysis of major 10 players in the market.
