Research Summary

Aircraft ACMI leasing is a common practice in the airline industry, where one airline leases its aircraft to another airline on an ACMI (Aircraft, Crew, Maintenance, and Insurance) basis. This type of leasing allows the lessee (the airline that is leasing the aircraft) to operate the aircraft without having to invest in purchasing or maintaining it. The lessor (the airline that owns the aircraft) provides the aircraft, the crew to operate it, and takes care of all maintenance and insurance of the aircraft. The lessee pays a fee for this service, which is typically calculated on a per-hour basis. ACMI leasing is suitable for airlines that have seasonal or short-term demands for additional aircraft or for new airlines starting up with no aircraft of their own.

The major global suppliers of Aircraft ACMI Leasing include Atlas Air Inc, ABX Air, ASL Aviation Holdings, Air Atlanta Icelandic, Smartlynx, Avion Express, Titan Airways, Hi Fly, Air Charter Service, euroAtlantic, GetJet Airlines, 21Air, LLC, etc. The global players competition landscape in this report is divided into three tiers.
